Featured Speakers

Mike Lutz

Mike Lutz has been an attorney at the Spence Law Firm since 2013. He has successfully litigated cases ranging from truck crashes to insurance bad faith to wrongful death.

Michael double majored in biology and political science at DePauw University, graduating at the top of his class in each discipline. He was second in his class at the University of Colorado where he edited and wrote for the Law Review and competed in moot court and mock trial tournaments. He then served as a judicial law clerk for the late Honorable Justice Warren E. Jones of the Idaho Supreme Court.

Emily Madden

Emily is a Wyoming native who finds strength and purpose in fighting for those who have lost their ability to work, enjoyment of life, or a loved one. As a legal writing enthusiast, Emily focuses on incorporating persuasive advocacy in every pre-trial filing to ensure her clients' right to a jury trial is actualized.

Emily received her Bachelor of Arts in Business with honors from the University of Dallas where she also played Division III basketball and softball. She then worked as a policy analyst for Wyoming Governor Matthew H. Mead before starting law school at the University of Wyoming College of Law. When she was a second-year law student, a committee of Wyoming judges, lawyers, and law professors awarded Emily the Brimmer Scholarship, which honors the distinguished career of Judge Clarence A. Brimmer and rewards students who demonstrate a commitment to excellence in the law.

Emily taught two semesters of legal writing at the University of Wyoming College of Law, and she continues to enjoy teaching through Casper College's paralegal studies program and various CLE programs.

Wallace Trembath III

Wallace earned his Bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of Colorado at Boulder in Political Science. He earned his Doctor of Jurisprudence from the University of Oregon in 1999.

Wallace has been a part of the City of Casper Attorney's Office for the past 18 years working primarily as the real estate, contracts and franchising attorney. In January 2020, he completed Harvard X's Cybersecurity Course: Managing Risk in the Information Age.

Wallace had a solo practice in Casper for 3 years primarily in construction and family practice.

Wallace shares his life with his wife of 32 years, Wendy Trembath, a Certified Paralegal at Williams, Porter, Day, & Neville, in Casper, Wyoming. His hobbies include skiing, scuba diving, racquetball, and whitewater kayaking. For the past 18 years, Wallace has led a community group at Highland Park Community Church, and facilitates a young professionals group. He also works with pre-marital couples to develop communication skills through a program called FOCCUS.

Elissa Campbell

Elissa Campbell is the owner of Elevate Wyoming. She is a Wyoming native, University of Wyoming Alum, and owner of Elevate Wyoming.

She is a certified facilitator and master trainer with over 25 years of industry experience. Working in both public and private sectors, with for-profit and non-profit organizations, her experience ranges from oil & gas to healthcare and finance; from local municipalities to state government. Elissa excels at helping organizations bridge the gaps between where they are and where they want to be.
